Trump administration steps up scrutiny of pregnant visa applicants

Washington, January 23

DONALD PRESIDENT TRUMP'S administration rolled out a new rule on Thursday that aims to limit "birth tourism" by women who enter the United States on tourist visas with the intention of obtaining citizenship for their babies born on American soil.

Under the State Department regulation, which will take effect on Friday, pregnant women applying for visitor visas could be required to prove they have a specific reason for travel beyond giving birth, such as a medical necessity.

Trump faces re-election in November and has made restricting legal and illegal immigration a focus of his 2020 campaign.

During his presidency, he has criticised the right to citizenship for any person born in the United States, which applies even to children born to tourists. But scrapping that right would require a change in the US Constitution.

No US law bars foreign women from traveling to the United States to give birth, although consular officers previously could require visitors to

Xerox nominates new HP board after several buyout rebuffs

XEROX SAID ON Thursday it plans to nominate 11 independent candidates to HP's board, seeking to take control of the personal computer maker after several rejections of its $33.5 billion buyout offer.

The US printer maker made the cash-and-stock offer to HP, a company more than three times its size, in November. HP's board rejected the offer saying it significantly undervalued the company.

"HP shareholders have told us they believe our acquisition proposal will bring tremendous value, which is why we lined up $24 billion in binding financing commitments and a slate of highly qualified director candidates," John Visentin, Xerox's CEO, said on Thursday. HP, which has 12 board members, responded to Xerox's decision to nominate candidates by again saying the bid undervalues the company."These nominations are a self-serving tactic by Xerox to advance its proposal, which sig-

In some cases, alleged operators and customers of companies promoting "birth tourism" in the United States have been charged with providing false information to immigration authorities in order to conceal plans to give birth in the United States.

A State Department official said in an emailed statement that the new rule aims to address national security risks, including criminal activity associated with the industry for birth-related trips.

The final rule says consular officers must scrutinise female travelers to determine whether they might be pregnant, but does not explain how officers will make such determinations.

The State Department official said US officials will not ask all female visa applicants if they are pregnant, or intend to become pregnant, but instead will only raise the issue if they have "a specific articulable reason" to believe the sole purpose of the US visit is to give birth.

But critics worried the new rule could lead to discrimination. "It is absurd that the Trump administration is turning embassy employees into reproductive policemen," Kerri Talbot, a director with the Immigration Hub, a Washington-based advocacy organisation, said on Thursday. "Women will have to conceal their pregnancies just to get a tourist visa to visit the US."

Tesla remains a sell at UBS after target more than doubled

EVEN AFTER MORE than doubling his Tesla price target, UBS analyst Patrick Hummel still recommends that investors sell the electric-car maker.

With the shares worth more than twice as much as they were at the beginning of October, UBS's increased target of $410 is still 28% below the last closing price of $569.56.
